'Bacchus' Roman 'God of Wine'
His festival was celebrated on 16/17 March and was known as the 'Bacchanalia'. This was an orgy of sexual and criminal character and got so out of hand that the Roman Senate banned the festival in 186 BC.
This statue shows Bacchus in his youthful years whilst at the opposite end of this garden you can see a mask of Bacchus depicting him in his elder-years. Is this the result of a life of excess?
